died this morning shortly after 10 o'clock at the Emergency Hospital. Death was due to paralysis of the spine. The Georgetown police station was notified of the death before 11 o'clock, and the mother of the dead boy was informed later. Ar-

The cabinet also had up for consideration the matter of giving certificates of registration to vessels owned by American citizens in the Philippines so that the vessels may engage in the coastwise trade of the islands. Under the laws of this country. which apply to the Philippines, none but American vessels can engage in the coast-wise trade. When the peace treaty with Spain was signed Spain was given equal rights in trade matters with the United States for ten years in the Philippines. This entitles Spanish vessels to do a coastwise trade in the islands, and they have been doing so at the expense of vessels pur-chased by American citizens for the same purpose, but held back for lack of rights. The administration has decided to telegraph orders to the Philippines that all vessels bought hone tly and fairly for coastwise commerce and owned by American citizens shall be given certificates and allowed the freedom of this trade. The orders will be so positive as to leave no doubt.

Conference With Father McKinnon. Father McKinnon was not only the chap-lain of the 1st California Regiment, but he was for months the superintendent of the Maniia city schools and of the Manila ceme-teries. He organized the public schools and the system put in operation by him is still in force in that city.

Father McKinnon has been asked to return to Manila with Archbishop Chapelle, and will do so. It is expected that he will be of great assistance to the archbishop.

Insurrection Petering Out. Father McKinnon said this morning that the insurrection would have ended last April had not Aguinaldo and his backers received encouragement from this country. "Notwithstanding this encouragement, the insurrection is petering out," said Father McKinnen. "One by one the insurgent leaders are dropping away, and all the strength is concentrated in one man, Aguin-aldo. Of the original number of leaders aldo. Of the original number of leaders but one of importance remains to aid Aguinaldo. He is Mabino, the hunchback lawyer. Mabino is not much over four feet tall, and his record has never been an enviable one. He is as great a villain as the others who first started the insurrection. The history of some of these fellows is interesting. General Luna, the most brilliant man in the insurgent army, and who was Aguinaldo's bodyguard, was a murderer himself. He murdered his wife and mother-in-law in Paris and fled to the Philippines. General Pio del Pilar, who wants to be bought out, is a horse thief and all-around convict and outcast. The only really honest man who aided in beginning the insurrection was Paterne insurrection was Paterno. was a newspaper editor in Manila before the fighting. He has repented and is probably back in Manila. He had sent his family back into Manila before I left, and was expected to return just as soon as he could get away from the insurgents."

Chaplain McKibbon's View of the War

A Friend of Gen. Otis.

Father McKinnon is a strong friend of General Otis. He does not believe that the Philippine commission, which is about to assemble here, will report adversely to General Otis. He knows that most of the members believe in General Otis.

"There is no truth in the stories that General Otis has so much to do that he never goes to the front," said Father Mc-Kinnon. "He does go out on the firing lines; and in addition has every foot of the ground divided into plats. He has this ground divided into plats. He has this map in front of him always, and knows what he is doing."

The sum of about $75,000 as the legacy of the late Mrs. Eliza R. Daingerfield, the most of which was left to the children and helrs of the late Reverdy J. Daingerfield, is the litigation. As previously heirs of the late Reverdy J. Daingerheid, is involved in the litigation. As previously stated, the children and heirs of the late Henry Daingerfield, who were practically disinherited, bring suit to set aside the will on the ground that the testatrix lacked testamentary capacity.

Business Men's League.

The Business Men's League held its regular monthly meeting in the hall, corner of King and Washington streets, last night. The principal business transacted was the appointment of a committee to devise ways and means for increasing general interest in business matters pertaining to the league and the city. The following were named to serve on this committee: George R. Hill, W. B. Smoot, Ashby Miller, Park Agnew and M. B. Harlow.

Little material ance, the attempt would doubtless have been successful. The marriage of Mr. George B. Bennett and Miss Eliza N. Pumphrey, both of Washington, is announced to have taken place Sunday afternoon at the Methodist Protestant Church in this city, Rev. T. P. Revelle officiating. Immediately after the seremony the couple returned to Washing-while there would be a sort of guerrilla varfare for some time to come, the worst of the insurrection is over, the rebellion being confined to the Tagal tribe entirely. Funeral services over the remains of Dr. J. W. Bechtel, whose sudden death occur-red Saturday night, will be held at 7:45 o'clock this evening in Trinity M. E. Church, Rev. N. B. Masters officiating. Tomorrow morning the body will be forwarded to Newport, Pa., the former home of the deceased, for interment.

The funeral of Miss Netta Owens, who died of typhoid fever at the Alexandria Infirmary, Sunday morning, took place this fermion from her late residence on Gibleave the islands and peaceful natives to the mercy of the Tagals, the followers of Aguinaldo, would be an absolute act of Aguinaldo, would be an absolute act of inhumanity. At present 350 priests are suffering imprisonment at the hands of the rebels, and at the outbreak of the insurrection fifty were put to death. The destruction of church property was the work of insurgents, not of American solutions. bon street between Alfred and Patrick streets Rev. J. H.
